Nicotine Replacement Therapy: An Approach to Smoking Cessation

KEYNOTE – Emmanuel Tenazas, RN

Emmanuel Tenazas is the Strategic Healthcare Partnerships Manager at Johnson & Johnson Inc. for the NICODERM and Nicorette portfolio of products for Ontario, a position that he has held since December, 2018.

A Registered Nurse by background, he previously held multiple positions at University Health Network in Toronto, ON. He was UHN's first Smoking Cessation Coordinator and worked closely with the Ottawa Heart Institute to implement the Ottawa Model for Smoking Cessation on inpatient units at Toronto General Hospital. He organized smoking cessation awareness campaigns and provided smoking cessation education to various health care professionals across UHN. Emmanuel previously worked as a Staff Nurse at Toronto General Hospital in the Emergency Department and on the Head, Neck and Plastic Surgery inpatient unit. Emmanuel served as the chair of the Head and Neck Surgery inpatient unit council and was a member of the Nursing Practice Council at University Health Network.

Emmanuel graduated from The University of New Brunswick with a Bachelor's Degree in Nursing. He has published in the International Society of Nurses in Cancer Care Journal and has presented in numerous conferences and events including the International Conference on Cancer Nursing, Wharton Head and Neck Day and the UHN Collaborative Academic Practice Research and Innovation Day.
