

An information center for people who care about addressing the concerning phenomena of verbal, physical, and sexual aggressive behaviors between residents with Alzheimer's disease or other forms of dementia in nursing homes and assisted living residences as well as between participants of day programs (i.e. not aggressive behaviors that occur between residents/participants and care staff). Only a small number of studies examined the phenomena to date. There is an urgent need to raise awareness to these phenomena, enhance understanding regarding the ways in which these behaviors develop, manifest, and the effective strategies direct care staff can use to prevent and de-escalate them. Anyone is welcome to ask questions or share their thoughts, relevant experiences, knowledge, insights, and research findings in hope that dissemination of useful knowledge will inform efforts to better understand and prevent these behaviors.

To access the blog please visit: <http://eiloncaspiabbr.tumblr.com/>

Together we can keep residents with dementia safer,

Eilon Caspi Ph.D.